To Whom It May Concern:

I have known Michael A. Denigan for the past twenty-seven years. As one of his pastors, I can attest to his character. Mike is a genuine and authentic individual. He loves people and people love him because what he says is what he does. He doesn't change from one situation to another. In my opinion, this is what integrity is all about. He is a man of his word in spite of the personal consequences he has suffered because of it. His honest demeanor is one of the qualities that have drawn others to him.

We have had the privilege of travelling with Mike, as well as, our families going on vacation together. I know him well in his public life as well as his private life. He is not afraid to admit when he has been wrong and shown great humility when receiving praise. He has shown himself to be a loyal friend and compassionate man. He has open the door of his home to many that needed a helping hand and support through difficult times.

Mike is a faithful Christian in word and deed. He has shown himself to be an outstanding leader serving other selflessly. His generosity has inspired others to give of themselves and extend a helping hand to those in need.

Mike has been a successful businessman. His principles and work ethic have guided him in his tireless pursuit of that success. He is honest and trustworthy in all his dealings and relationships. He is a man that others long to emulate.

As a family man, Mike is a loving and faithful husband and a mentor to his children. This is the man I love and respect.
